Also, if you fail to set forth all the grounds in this petition, you may be barred from presenting additional grounds at a later date.

GROUND ONE:

Petitioner's rights under the Fourteenth Amendment were violated by the State's misconduct in failing to disclose material evidence favorable to him in violation of Brady

(a) Supporting facts (Do not argue or cite law. Just state the specific facts that support your claim.):

The Petitioner's due process rights under the Fourteenth Amendment were violated by the State's failure to disclose critical information concerning fact witnesses who testified against him. Specifically, the State withheld material information concerning offers of immunity made to witnesses by both prosecutors and police officers in exchange for testimony against the Petitioner at trial. The suppression of these tacit agreements deprived the defense of the opportunity to properly impeach those witnesses. As such, the Petitioner is entitled to a new trial. More detailed factual and legal support for this ground is set forth in the Memorandum in Support of Petition for Writ of Habeas Corpus submitted herewith and incorporated herein by reference.

(b) If you did not exhaust your state remedies on Ground One, explain why:

The Petitioner filed a Motion for Reconsideration of Court of Criminal Appeals' dismissal of application for writ of habeas corpus on July 16, 2009.

(e) Other Remedies: Describe any other procedures (such as habeas corpus, administrative remedies, etc.) that you have used to exhaust your state remedies on Ground One:

The Petitioner filed a Motion for Reconsideration of Court of Criminal Appeals' dismissal of application for writ of habeas corpus on July 16, 2009.

GROUND TWO:

Petitioner's conviction violates the Fifth and Fourteenth Amendments because the trial court erred in denying the motion to suppress petitioner's involuntary confession

(a) Supporting facts (Do not argue or cite law. Just state the specific facts that support your claim.):

The Petitioner's conviction violates the Fifth and Fourteenth Amendments because the trial court erred in denying the motion to suppress the Petitioner's involuntary confession. The record evidence demonstrates that the Petitioner's confession was obtained under a totality of circumstances evidencing an involuntary admission of guilt. At the time his statement was coerced, the police had deliberately withheld prescription medications needed to treat the symptoms of his mental illness, including schizophrenia, depression, and anxiety disorders. The Petitioner was also suicidal, had not slept in days, and was experiencing the after effects of a weeks-long methamphetamine binge. Despite knowledge of the Petitioner's state of mind, the police proceeded to engage him in casual conversation, without any Miranda warnings, before asking the Petitioner directly if he had committed the murder. Only then, after obtaining the answer he had sought, did the detective conducting the interrogation advise the Petitioner of his Miranda rights and proceed to extract a detailed statement. Such deliberate and coercive circumvention of the Petitioner's rights is not permitted under the Fifth and Fourteenth Amendments. More detailed factual and legal support for this ground is set forth in the accompanying Memorandum in Support of Petition for Writ of Habeas Corpus.

- (e) Other Remedies: Describe any other procedures (such as habeas corpus, administrative remedies, etc.) that you :
have used to exhaust your state remedies on Ground Two

GROUND THREE:

Petitioner's conviction violates the Sixth Amendment because the petitioner's lead trial counsel slept during the guilt / innocence phase of the trial

- (a) Supporting facts (Do not argue or cite law. Just state the specific facts that support your claim.):

The Petitioner's conviction violates the Sixth Amendment guarantee of effective assistance of counsel in light of uncontroverted evidence that the Petitioner's lead trial counsel slept during portions of the guilt/innocence phase of the trial. Several jurors noted that Petitioner's lead counsel, Frank Macias, slept during the examination of witnesses. This not only deprived the Petitioner of his counsel's assistance during the trial, it also left the jurors with the highly prejudicial impression that the Petitioner's own lawyer was not engaged or interested in the defense of his client. Mr. Macias's sleeping violated the fundamental principle of fairness in the adversarial process and is per se ineffective under the governing law of this Circuit. More detailed factual and legal support for this ground is set forth in the accompanying Memorandum in Support of Petition for Writ of Habeas Corpus.

(b) If you did not exhaust your state remedies on Ground Three, explain why?

- (e) Other Remedies: Describe any other procedures (such as habeas corpus, administrative remedies, etc.) that you have used to exhaust your state remedies on Ground Three:

GROUND FOUR:

Petitioner's conviction violates the Fifth and Fourteenth Amendments because the trial court erred in denying the petitioner's motion for a continuance

- (a) Supporting facts (Do not argue or cite law. Just state the specific facts that support your claim.):

The Petitioner's conviction violates his constitutional right to due process because the trial court arbitrarily denied the Petitioner's request for a short continuance before trial. The Petitioner sought a continuance of less than a month in order to: 1) undergo evaluation by an expert addictionologist; 2) conduct DNA testing of physical evidence that the State had not tested; and 3) conduct interviews with fact witnesses who were called to testify against the Petitioner. The trial court's denial of the continuance prevented the Petitioner from taking these steps, and thus prevented him from being able to prepare his defense, which is a fundamental element of due process. As such, the Petitioner is entitled to a new trial. More detailed factual and legal support for this ground is set forth in the Memorandum in Support of Petition for Writ of Habeas Corpus submitted herewith and incorporated herein by reference.

- (b) If you did not exhaust your state remedies on Ground Four, explain why:

- (e) Other Remedies: Describe any other procedures (such as habeas corpus, administrative remedies, etc.) that you have used to exhaust your state remedies on Ground Four:

13. Please answer these additional questions about the petition you are filing:

- (a) Have all grounds for relief that you have raised in this petition been presented to the highest state court having jurisdiction? ☐ Yes ☒ No

If your answer is "No," state which grounds have not been so presented and give your reason(s) for not presenting them:

- (b) Is there any ground in this petition that has not been presented in some state or federal court? If so, ground or grounds have not been presented, and state your reasons for not presenting them:

(d) Have you filed, or do you plan to file, any petition that challenges the judgment or sentence to be served in the future? ☐ Yes ☒ No

18. TIMELINESS OF PETITION: If your judgment of conviction became final over one year ago, you must explain why the one-year statute of limitations as contained in 28 U.S.C. § 2244(d) does not bar your petition.*
N/A.

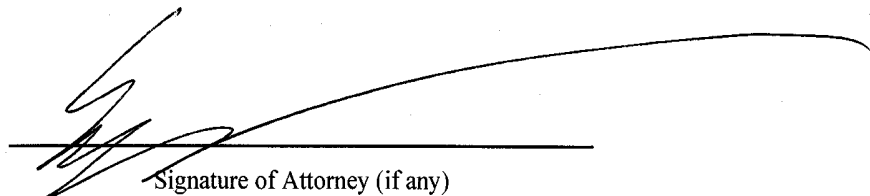

* The Antiterrorism and Effective Death Penalty Act of 1996 ("AEDPA") as contained in 28 U.S.C. § 2244(d) provides in part that:

- (1) A one-year period of limitation shall apply to an application for a writ of habeas corpus by a person in custody pursuant to the judgment of a State court. The limitation period shall run from the latest of -
 - (A) the date on which the judgment became final by the conclusion of direct review or the expiration of the time for seeking such review;
 - (B) the date on which the impediment to filing an application created by State action in violation of the Constitution or laws of the United States is removed, if the applicant was prevented from filing by such state action;
 - (C) the date on which the constitutional right asserted was initially recognized by the Supreme Court, if the right has been newly recognized by the Supreme Court and made retroactively applicable to cases on collateral review; or
 - (D) the date on which the factual predicate of the claim or claims presented could have been discovered through the exercise of due diligence.

- (2) The time during which a properly filed application for State post-conviction or other collateral review with respect to the pertinent judgment or claim is pending shall not be counted toward any period of limitation under this subsection.

Therefore, petitioner asks that the Court grant the following relief:

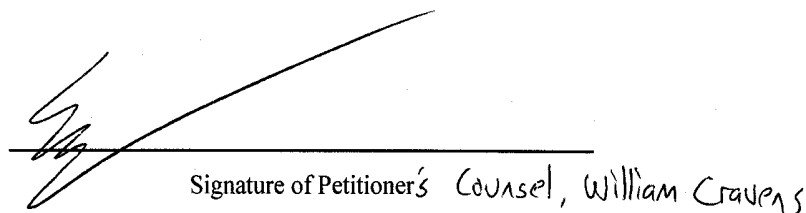

Issue a writ of habeas corpus that Mr. Hall may be discharged from his unconstitutional confinement and restraint and/or relieved of his unconstitutional sentence of death; grant Mr. Hall further discovery and an evidentiary hearing at which he may present evidence in support of his claims; direct that the record in this case be expanded to include additional materials relevant to the determination of the merits of the petition; or any other relief to which petitioner may be entitled.

ADDITIONAL GROUNDS

GROUND FIVE: Petitioner's Conviction and Sentence of Death Violate the Due Process Clause of the United States Constitution Because the Evidence Adduced at Trial was Insufficient to Prove that the Petitioner Murdered the Victim in the Course of Committing or Attempting to Commit the Offense of Retaliation.

(a) Supporting facts (Do not argue or cite law. Just state the specific facts that support your claim.):

The Petitioner's conviction and sentence of death violate the due process clause because the evidence at trial was insufficient to prove that the Petitioner murdered the victim in the course of committing or attempting to commit the offense of retaliation. Indeed, the testimony of the State's own witnesses clearly demonstrates the lack of evidence sufficient for a rational jury to find beyond a reasonable doubt that the Petitioner killed Melanie Billhartz in order to prevent her from reporting the occurrence of a crime to the authorities, as required by Texas Penal Code Ann. § 36.06. More detailed factual and legal support for this ground is set forth in the Memorandum in Support of Petition for Writ of Habeas Corpus submitted herewith and incorporated herein by reference.

The Petitioner filed a Motion for Reconsideration of Court of Criminal Appeals' dismissal of application for writ of habeas corpus on July 16, 2009

GROUND SIX: Petitioner's Sentence of Death Violates The Sixth Amendment Because Trial Counsel Failed to Investigate and Present Substantial, Readily Available Evidence in Mitigation of the Death Penalty.

- (a) Supporting facts (Do not argue or cite law. Just state the specific facts that support your claim.):

The Petitioner's sentence of death violates the Sixth Amendment because trial counsel failed to investigate and present substantial, readily available evidence in mitigation of the death penalty. Specifically, trial counsel failed to investigate and present overwhelming and powerful evidence of childhood abuse, neglect, and mental illness. Such evidence was material, and would have caused at least one juror to have decided the Petitioner's fate differently had she been informed of the Petitioner's compelling, tragic, and sympathetic personal story. More detailed factual and legal support for this ground is set forth in the Memorandum in Support of Petition for Writ of Habeas Corpus submitted herewith and incorporated herein by reference.

(e) Other Remedies: Describe any other procedures (such as habeas corpus, administrative remedies, etc.) that you have used to exhaust your state remedies on Ground Six:

The Petitioner filed a Motion for Reconsideration of Court of Criminal Appeals' dismissal of application for writ of habeas corpus on July 16, 2009.

GROUND SEVEN: Petitioner's Sentence of Death Violates The Sixth Amendment Because Trial Counsel Argued to the Jury, Without Any Plausible Tactical Reason and Contrary to Evident Defensive Strategy, That Petitioner Deserved To Die for his Alleged Crime.

(a) Supporting facts (Do not argue or cite law. Just state the specific facts that support your claim.):

The Petitioner's death sentence violates the Sixth Amendment because Petitioner was deprived of the effective assistance of counsel at the punishment phase of his trial when trial counsel argued to the jury that the Petitioner deserved to die. Trial counsel's bizarre and highly prejudicial comments to the jury completely sabotaged any opportunity for effective assistance of counsel during the punishment phase of his trial, and undermined even the poor mitigation case that trial counsel had presented. The Petitioner was thus prejudiced by his counsel's unprofessional performance, and in accordance with Strickland principles, his petition for relief should be granted. More detailed factual and legal support for this ground is set forth in the Memorandum in Support of Petition for Writ of Habeas Corpus submitted herewith and incorporated herein by reference.

GROUND EIGHT: Petitioner's Death Sentence Violates the Sixth Amendment Because Trial Counsel Relinquished Two Peremptory Challenges Against Objectionable Jurors by Failing to Require That Each Eligible Juror Be Passed for Preemptory Challenge First by the Prosecution.

- (a) Supporting facts (Do not argue or cite law. Just state the specific facts that support your claim.):

The Petitioner's sentence of death violates the Sixth Amendment because trial counsel inexplicably relinquished two preemptory challenges against objectionable jurors by failing to follow the procedures set forth in Article 35.13 of the Texas Code of Criminal Procedure. Under that provision, the State is required to exercise challenges for cause and preemptory strikes to potential jurors before a capital defendant exercises his. This allows the defendant to maximize his use of preemptory strikes by only having to strike objectionable jurors who cannot be challenged for cause, but who the State has accepted. Petitioner's trial counsel, however, unreasonably, and without any strategic or tactical motive, made an agreement with the State to exercise simultaneous and independent preemptory strikes. As a result of this agreement, at least two jurors who demonstrated improper bias were permitted to serve on the panel that delivered the Petitioner's death sentence. More detailed factual and legal support for this ground is set forth in the Memorandum in Support of Petition for Writ of Habeas Corpus submitted herewith and incorporated herein by reference.

GROUND NINE: Petitioner's Death Sentence Violates the Sixth Amendment Because Trial Counsel Agreed to Excuse Death-Qualified Venire Members Who Were Opposed to Capital Punishment Without Questioning Them.

- (a) Supporting facts (Do not argue or cite law. Just state the specific facts that support your claim.):

The Petitioner's death sentence violates the Sixth Amendment because trial counsel agreed to excuse without questioning death-qualified venire members who had indicated opposition to capital punishment. This decision was by no means required – the law permits individuals opposed to the death penalty to serve as long as they are able to obey the oath they must take as jurors. Thus, the venire members in question were not per se unqualified. Yet, without any reasonable explanation or justification, the Petitioner's trial counsel agreed to excuse, without questioning, numerous potential jurors who were opposed to the death penalty. Taken in tandem with the fact that trial counsel was later denied nine challenges for cause and a motion for a mistrial based on the lack of qualified jurors, it is clear that this decision was both unreasonable and highly prejudicial. More detailed factual and legal support for this ground is set forth in the Memorandum in Support of Petition for Writ of Habeas Corpus submitted herewith and incorporated herein by reference.

GROUND TEN: Petitioner's Sentence of Death Violates the Sixth Amendment Because Trial Counsel Failed to Object to the Court's Failure to Instruct Numerous Venire Members as Required by Texas Code of Criminal Procedure Art. 35.17(2).

(a) Supporting facts (Do not argue or cite law. Just state the specific facts that support your claim.):

The Petitioner's sentence of death violates the Sixth Amendment because trial counsel failed to object to the trial court's failure to instruct numerous venire members as required by Texas Code of Criminal Procedure Article 35.17(2). Under that provision, a capital trial court is required to "propound to the entire panel of prospective jurors questions concerning the principles, as applicable to the case on trial, of reasonable doubt, burden of proof, return of indictment by grand jury, presumption of innocence, and opinion." A court's failure to administer such questions constitutes reversible error when a capital defendant is denied a federal right as a result. In the instant case, the judge presiding over voir dire examinations failed to question the jury regarding the Article 35.17(2) principles before allowing the State and the Petitioner's trial counsel to proceed with their voir dire examinations. Petitioner's trial counsel failed to object to the deviation from statutory procedure. As a result, at least one juror with questions regarding the principle of reasonable doubt was seated on the jury that delivered Mr. Hall's death sentence. More detailed factual and legal support for this ground is set forth in the Memorandum in Support of Petition for Writ of Habeas Corpus submitted herewith and incorporated herein by reference.

IN THE COURT OF CRIMINAL APPEALS OF TEXAS

NO. WR-70,834-01

EX PARTE JUSTEN GRANT HALL

ON APPLICATION FOR WRIT OF HABEAS CORPUS IN CAUSE

NO. 20030D00505-34-1 IN THE 34TH JUDICIAL DISTRICT COURT

EL PASO COUNTY

Per Curiam. Price and Womack, JJ., would remand.

ORDER

We have before us a post-conviction application for writ of habeas corpus filed pursuant to the provisions of Texas Code of Criminal Procedure article 11.071 and a motion to dismiss that application.⁽¹⁾

In February 2005, a jury convicted applicant of the offense of capital murder. The jury answered the special issues submitted pursuant to Article 37.071, and the trial court, accordingly, set punishment at death. This Court affirmed applicant's conviction and sentence on direct appeal. Hall v. State, No. AP-75,121 (Tex. Crim. App. June 27, 2007)(not designated for publication).

Under Article 11.071, § 4, an applicant's initial writ application must be filed in the trial court not later than the 45th day after the date the State's brief is filed on direct appeal with the possibility of a one-time 90-day extension. See Art. 11.071, § 4(a) and (b). Assuming counsel filed a timely motion for an extension, applicant's initial application was due in the trial court on or before March 22, 2007. Counsel filed applicant's application in the trial court on March 19, 2007.

On August 22, 2008, before the application and accompanying record were forwarded to this Court, applicant sent the trial court a letter in which he stated that he wanted to "drop [his] remaining appeals." Thus, applicant indicated his desire to waive his right to habeas review.⁽²⁾ Apparently pursuant to this request, applicant's counsel filed, in both the trial court and in this Court, a motion to dismiss the application and to have applicant evaluated for competency to make such a decision. The trial court then appointed two experts to evaluate applicant.

On March 6, 2009, the trial court held a hearing on applicant's request to waive his appeals and counsel's motion to dismiss the application. Applicant clarified during this hearing that he did not want to waive habeas review. However, he did want the court to dismiss the application filed by counsel Robin Norris in its entirety and to allow him to proceed pro se to file his own writ. Both counsel and the court discouraged applicant from this action and warned him that such an action would likely result in a procedural bar to further habeas claims. Applicant persisted in his desire to dismiss the application and to proceed pro se. The court found, pursuant to the reports of the two experts, that applicant was competent to make this decision. Thus, the court removed Norris as counsel, appointing him instead as "support counsel," and recommended to this Court that applicant's application be dismissed. The trial court then ordered that the case should be forwarded to this Court.

On March 31, 2009, applicant sent a letter to this Court and the trial court in which he asks (1) that the trial judge withdraw his recommendation to dismiss the application; (2) that the judge remove Robin Norris as his "support counsel"; (3) that the courts provide him a copy of "[his] case"; and (4) if a hearing must be held, that it be done via conference call without bench warranting him back to the county. Despite the apparent change in attitude regarding whether the currently filed writ application should be dismissed, applicant still maintains in this letter that he wants his attorney dismissed and he wants to be allowed to represent himself.

If applicant's intent is to start over and file a pro se initial writ application, or even to supplement or amend the already filed application, his request comes far too late. An initial application has been filed, and the statutory time for filing has passed. Any pro se document filed at this stage, whether replacing the originally filed application or attempting to supplement it with additional claims, will be considered a subsequent application subject to review under Article 11.071, § 5. Nonetheless, applicant is certainly free to file a subsequent application, and it will be reviewed according to the dictates of the statute.

Meanwhile, the question before the Court is whether to dismiss the attorney-filed writ application. Applicant, during the hearing in the trial court, persisted in his request that the attorney-filed initial application be dismissed. He also persisted, and continues to persist, that his appointed counsel be dismissed. Finally, the trial court's appointed experts both opined that applicant was competent to make these decisions. For these reasons, we will defer to the trial court's recommendation. The application for writ of habeas corpus filed in the trial court on March 19, 2007, is dismissed.

IT IS SO ORDERED THIS THE 10TH DAY OF JUNE, 2009.
